Blue Water Ramble

It was another GREAT year for the Blue Water Ramble. We had about 1400 riders signed up for the ride. The (weather committee (joke) did a good job) weather was very windy but it was sunny. Most of the riders I welcomed back seemed to have had a good time.

Bill Duemling, Registration Head, and all who worked on his committee. Bill had the task of leading his committee in computer entry of all riders, and checking in the folks on the day of the ride. He said it was the smoothest registration he has ever been a part of.

Thank you Registration Committee.

Then we had Dave Courter, Day of Ride Head, and Committee. Hey did anyone check out those cool looking parking signs. Dave did a great job on the signs he made for parking. As far as I can tell everyone got parked alright and made it across the ferries without a hitch.

Thank you Day of Ride Committee.

Debbie Capoferi and Steve Angst headed up the Publicity Committee. This committee was responsible for advertisement of the ride, momentoes and the sweatshirts. The sweatshirts all sold. The magnets had the design and hotline number on it. The group worked very hard to make sure people knew about this event and make sure they would remember it as a fun event.

Thank you Publicity Committee.

Warren Berthelsen headed up the SAG Committee. He had to organize his group to handle riders in need. He had SAGs by bicycle, by car and a motorcycle too. His committee did a good job making sure everyone who rode the ride were taking care of on the road.

Thank you SAG Committee.

Eric Noyes, Route Chief, had one the biggest jobs before the ride. Eric and his route hand man George, had the task of checking the routes not once but several times to find out about construction, making the maps, mark the routes in paint, pre-ride and one more time before the day of the ride. No one got lost and several people mentioned how well they were marked. Thank you Route Committee.

BWR continued :

Elizabeth Nieman was the Rest Stop Chief, the other big job before the ride. Her committee had to feed all these riders not once but through the whole day at different rest stops. All the rest stops went without too much trouble. The worst thing I heard all day was lunch stop running out of TP, which was corrected quickly. Other than that we had food for everyone. Each rest stop is equipped like a camp kitchen. If anyone left hungry it was their own fault. Plus her committee has the most to do the day after. Washing and packing the kitchens back up for another year and donating all the left over food. Thank you Rest Stop Committee.

This Ride could not be pulled off without all these committee heads and their committees that volunteered their time, some of their hearts and some of their souls to make this one the Best Blue Water Rambles and with them it made this Chairs job real easy. Thank you for that, all of you.

Now here are some tips for Chair People to be. Make sure you have the biggest and the most comfortable chair there, (Everyone will know you are the CHAIR person). Make sure you keep your beverages covered, (I got stung by a bee on my lip). Make sure you are not the only brave (?) person around when picking up the rental truck and if by chance you do get to drive the big truck make sure it has a good radio that you can sing to, (I had a blast echoing off all the metal in the cab). Also make sure you bring your own food.
